Explore Indoors

Explore the Irvin Goodon International Wildlife Museum and discover the wonders of nature through interactive exhibits and engaging guided tours.

Experience a world outside the boundaries of town and city. You'll find an adventure around every corner and behind every wooded scene in over 4,000 square feet of magnificently displayed wildlife.

The museum is a lively centre where visitors learn about the natural habitat and behaviour of animals in the wild. Nature's finest and fiercest animals will come to life as you explore the frozen arctic tundra or a quiet prairie field. See the beauty of the wild in the smallest of creatures and largest of predators.

Home to more than 300 animals from North America to New Zealand, you'll see them in their natural surroundings—as close as most people will ever get to these wild animals.

As a young boy trapping and hunting for necessity in the 1930's, Irvin Goodon began to develop a life long passion that would someday be shared with the world. Founder of Goodon Industries, Canada's largest post frame construction company, Irvin became not only a skilled businessman, but an experienced hunter, travelling on expeditions to New Zealand, Western Canada, and the Northwest Territories. Today, he educates and shares nature's majesty with the public through the Irvin Goodon International Wildlife Museum.
